

Hydrometer

Handheld Sensor for Determining Moisture Within the Layers of the Skin

Both economical and accurate, the Moritex Hydrometer easily checks the level of moisture in the corneal layer of the skin anywhere on the body to determine your hydration level. If the level is too low, you may not be getting enough fluid throughout the day.

To operate, simply press the hydrometer against the skin for two seconds, and a moisture reading from 0-99 is displayed. Use the convenient reference scale next to the LCD to determine the moisture content.

Refractometer

Brix Meter to Identify the Best Produce (Fruits, Veggies, Etc.) to Eat

This refractometer is an indispensable tool for every home to help you select the best foods to eat (whether they are labeled organic or not). With this simple, hardy instrument, all you need is a couple of drops of juice or sap from a raw food (such as a tomato, orange or potato) to provide a Brix reading to determine if this food's nutrient content level (which directly correlates with Brix levels) falls in the recommended "best to eat" category.

Many foods look colorful and large - but can be nutrient deficient. Now you have a simple way to determine the best grown food. It is also an invaluable tool for use in home gardening, farming or plant and crop management.

Test Strips

Urinary Test Strips:

These strips provide a fast dip-and-read test for the detection of 6 parameters in urine, including pH, glucose, protein, blood, leukocytes and nitrites. The strip allows very accurate reading of the urine pH parameter. These can be used in office or given to a patient to use at home and report back the tests.

pH Test Strips:

These super-sensitive test strips give you an extremely accurate reading of how acidic or alkaline your tissues may be. It can test the pH of urine or saliva (range: 4.5 - 9.0). Unlike regular pH tape or litmus paper, the pad indicator of each test strip is super easy to read, thus giving you a more accurate reading. In addition, the strips measure in tight 0.25 increments so you'll know exactly what your pH is. Practitioner preferred.

pH Paper Roll:

This is standard pH testing paper to give you a quick reading of how acid or alkaline your body tissues may be. Just tear off a 1 to 2" strip and place it briefly in saliva or urine.

The S.E.D.U.

*Subtle Energy Detection Device
Use the SEDU to demonstrate the body's biofield and bio-connectivity*

The SEDU is a great tool to demonstrate a bio-circuit as well as bio-connectivity. By touching both the metal strips at the same time, you are closing the circuit, resulting in light and sound. This works well with all age groups and is a great illustration of how we are all energetically connected. A group of 75 people who were "hooked up" by finger touch once demonstrated the energy current provided by the SEDU.

Inversion Table

Rejuvenate Your Spine & Flexibility
Supports Circulation, Ligament Strength & Helps Ease Muscle Tension in the Back

This medically tested, top-rated inversion table is the ideal home unit for full-body rejuvenation. While gently inverted, your own body weight creates enough traction to help stretch the spine and increase the space between vertebrae. This process helps relieve pressure on discs and nerve roots, reducing minor pain in the back. In addition, using the table for just a few minutes a day promotes flexibility, circulation, lymph flow, ligament integrity and stress relief.

Q-Tape™

Negative polarity tape for unique Vastu applications

Q-Tape™ is a brand new breakthrough in Vastu remediation. Q-Tape™ is made from a special metal alloy which includes 4-polarity lead for its classical Vastu properties of radiation absorption and protection. Q-Tape™ is easy to cut with scissors, and after peeling off the backing, its sticky surface makes it simple to apply to a surface. It can also be taken off a surface fairly easily if it needs to be repositioned and then replaced.

Q-Tape™ is very unusual in that it has a highly negative polarity (most metals have a net positive polarity). This makes Q-Tape™ the perfect element to balance highly polarized electrical currents which saturate all the walls of your home. (See directions.)

Q-Mag Bracelets

Resonant Magnetic Copper Bracelets

Each beautiful, antiqued copper bracelet contains a neodymium 2000 gauss magnet on each link, with the north pole facing up guaranteed (so when you wear the bracelet, the north poles of each magnet will be facing your wrist). Research has found that the North Pole helps to generate a soothing, beneficial effect. We find that it helps to “push” energy through the meridian system for better energy.

Alka-pH

A 2:1 Ratio Calcium/Magnesium Concentrate

Optimizes Soil Fertility, Alkaline Soil pH, Plant Health, Superior Soil Structure, Aeration & Drainage

Alka-pH helps improve soil health to produce healthier, more robust plants, lawns and pastures without artificial chemicals or pesticides. Alka-pH is rich in calcium which is called the “King of Soil Nutrients” because it supports optimal plant health and productivity levels and helps alkalize the soil’s pH to decrease soil acidity.

Alka-pH supports superior nitrogen utilization and fixation, while optimizing soil structure, aeration and drainage. Apply this formula to reduce soil surface crusting for superior seedling emergence and to optimize all other soil fertility amendments.

Biotic-Boost

Broad-Spectrum Blend of Natural, Ancient Soil Probiotics

Biotic-Boost is a concentrated blend of beneficial natural soil probiotic bacteria (Archaeobacteria) collected from soils, hot springs, and volcanic regions all over the world. The main goal in applying Biotic-Boost is to create a hearty microbial population so nutrients can be readily available to plants. Soil probiotics help promote fast plant growth, better seed germination time, reduce transplant shock, produce robust blooms and create superior fruit production. Plants grown with Biotic-Boost exhibit healthy roots and optimal pest resistance. This unique formula is easy to use and can be applied at any time of the year.

Nitro-Boost

Live-Source, Unheated Sea Vegetation & Soil Probiotic Blend for Superior Soil Fertility & Vigor

Nitro-Boost provides probiotic soil microorganisms and natural-source nitrogen needed in large amounts for superior soil fertility. Nitrogen is important for rapid plant growth and optimal seed, vegetable and fruit production.

The key agent in Nitro-Boost, ascophyllum, provides an excellent source of soluble nitrogen (due to its high amino acid content) and is an outstanding soil builder with over 60 naturally occurring major and minor nutrients and chelating agents including alginic acid and mannitol. It also contains key phyto-compounds such as auxins, cytokinins, and gibberellins which promote superior plant development, color and vigor as well as optimal seed germination, root and shoot growth, fruit set and decreased fruit drop.

Zeo-Boost

Premier Grade Zeolite Concentrate

Promotes Optimal Soil Quality, Drought Protection, Growth, Vigor, Size & Yield

This one-of-a-kind product contains the preferred form of zeolite called laumontite, which has a unique, calcium-based zeolite structure (not common, sodium-based zeolite). Its unusual structure provides maximum cation exchange for extraordinary soil detoxification (toxins, contaminants) as well as buffering the soil pH with natural calcium.

Zeolite acts like a reservoir to hold macro and micro nutrients in the soil until needed by the plant (instead of leaching out). Zeolite has been successfully used in growing produce and flower gardens, lawns and turf areas such as golf courses, sport fields, parks and common areas.
